Mysuru, Nov. 30 (Vinay Karekura & BCT)- UPI or Unified Payments Interface has earned popularity for its user-friendliness interface. It is a single platform that brings many banking services and features under one universal roof.

However, with the increased number of transactions happening through UPI, there has been a significant rise in the cases of bank fraud. Dhiraj Kumar Chaubey, a businessman and a resident of Hebbal in the city, lost Rs. 14,400 on Nov. 15 as a UPI app was automatically installed on his phone while he was interacting with a fraudster, posing as a customer service executive of a telecom company.

Soon after the fraud, Dhiraj Kumar complained to the Cyber, Economic and Narcotics (CEN) Crime Police Station over the phone and acting swiftly, the CEN Police were able to block the fraudster's account and reverse the money (Rs. 14,400) deducted from Dhiraj Kumar's bank account.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

A long time back, I saw a padlocked, wooden gate in the middle of a vast, open field. A standalone gate. It got me thinking. Are we not somewhat like that padlocked gate, living rooted in maya, the illusory material world, in the vast expanse of a horizonless universe? We try to find happiness in give and take relationships and temporary material gains, solace in restrictive religions, rites and rituals, and seek guidance from theoretical, hollow teachings of self-appointed spiritual guides. Though, all we have to do is look within, our innermost soul.

Awaking of the Self happens when there is awareness, and we are in sync with the universal vibration. According to the Kathopanishad, "This atman is hidden in all beings and does not shine forth, but it is seen by the subtle seers through their sharp and subtle intellect." Even here, the soul encounters dark nights of doubts and dilemmas, of denials and devotions. To emerge from this whirlpool, we have to move inwards to explore the transformative power within us. The passport to this mystic world is the stillness of mind. In the words of Rabindranath Tagore, "In the mountain, stillness surges up to explore its own height; in the lake, movement stands still to contemplate its own depth."

Elusive happiness, allure of pleasure, fear of pain, humiliation of failure are but reflections of ego, shades of darkness limited mostly to the body parameter. Life is not to be lived in denial but with detachment, discipline and dedication, as opposed to desires, demands and doubts.

The mind makes us victims of circumstances and yet when it metamorphoses into silence and solitude, it transfers us to a realm of contentment and peace. The awakened soul neither owns nor owes anything. It enters a space of illuminated nothingness, where an eternal kinship is forged with Nature and the soul reverberates with the vibration of the universe, the state of anand.

On closer inspection, I noted that the iron padlock had not rusted and green branches were growing on the wooden gate. —Soma Chakravertty in The Times of India

Mom impersonates daughter to prove a point

San Elizario: A young mother who went viral for recording herself impersonating her 13-year-old daughter at her school in order to prove a point was recently found guilty of criminal trespassing.

On Nov. 15, a jury sentenced Casey Garcia to six months of probation and ordered her to pay a fine of $700 in connection to a 2021 incident where she attended classes at San Elizario Middle School disguised as her teenage daughter, in order to show how easy it was for an adult to enter the school. The mother, who was 30 years old at the time, dyed her hair, put on skin tanner and wore a hoodie and a face mask in order to pass for her 13-year-old daughter and gain access to the school. She recorded the controversial experiment and posted the video on social media where it got a lot of attention but ultimately led to her arrest.

Digital spin to ancient 'floating basket' festival

Bangkok: Children in Thailand crafted virtual rafts and sent them floating down digital rivers, in an environmentally friendly version of an ancient festival.

Over the centuries, people have sent 'krathongs' - small, baskets made from plants and loaded with flowers, candles and bamboo - down waterways to make wishes and pay their respects to water spirits.

The beautiful 'floating basket' or Loy Krathong festival lights up Bangkok's canals and rivers at night - but often leaves organisers scrabbling to clear canals clogged up with hundreds of thousands of soggy vessels the next morning.

This year, the kids drew 3,000 pictures of 'krathongs', scanned them into computers and projected them onto a colourful representation of the water's surface.

Bad condition of Road
at Jayanagar Level Crossing

Sir,

The Road at Jayanagar Level Crossing is in a very bad condition since many months. Two-wheeler riders have to manoeuvre carefully. Added to this are the pedestrians, who have to use the same stretch.

This Level Crossing is a short route to Kuvempunagar from Jayanagar and Krishnamurthypuram. When many roads have been relaid and asphalted, how come this stretch has remained unattended? When I spoke to the Gatekeeper at the spot, he said the stretch in between the track is the responsibility of the Railways. Hope the authorities concerned will take up this road work immediately.

Tiger spotted at sugarcane field near Nanjangud

- Forest staff begin operation to trap the wild cat
- Villagers warned not to enter their agri fields

Nanjangud, Nov. 30 (MTY&KS)- Even though the tiger that had killed a woman has been captured and shifted to the rehabilitation centre at Koorgalli in Mysuru, fear has gripped the villagers of a few villages in Nanjangud taluk after a video of the tiger being spotted at a village in the taluk went viral on social media, prompting the Forest Department officials of Mysuru Zone to take steps to capture the tiger.

Yesterday night a camera trap installed by the Forest Department at Doddakanya village has captured the photo of the tiger and this morning, the Forest staff spotted a tiger at a sugarcane field in Doddakanya.

Following the tiger being spotted, the Forest staff immediately informed their higher officials, who have rushed to the spot. Villagers have been warned about the presence of the tiger and have instructed the villagers not to venture into their agri fields till the tiger is captured.

Sources said that the tiger is a sub-adult and it is suspected that the tiger has entered into human habitat to extend its territory.

Mysuru Circle Conservator of Forests (CF) Dr. Malathi Priya, Assistant Conservator of Forests (ACF) N. Lakshmikanth and Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Dr. K.N. Basavaju have rushed to Doddakanya and have intensified the operation to capture the tiger.

It may be recalled that following complaints that a tiger was spotted in Chikkakanya, Doddakanya, Bythahalli, Sinduvalli and other villages, the Forest Department, which took the issue seriously, had begun its operation to trace and trap the tiger.

The Forest Department utilised 30 Thermal Sensor Cameras and two Pan-tilt-zoom (PTZ) cameras for tracing and placed two cages to trap the tiger. Camera traps are installed at Doddakanya to monitor the movement of tiger.

Hair sample of captured tiger sent for DNA test

The sample of the tiger's hair found at the spot where the woman was killed in the fringes of Bandipur Forest has been sent for DNA test along with the hair sample of the captured tiger, said Bandipur National Park Director Dr. Ramesh Kumar.

Dr. Ramesh further said that after the tiger was captured, camera traps have not captured images of any tiger. Pointing out that the captured tiger was caught on camera trap in 2012, Dr. Ramesh said that the tiger was more than 12 to 13 years old. Despite the tiger being healthy, it is because of its age, it was unable to move fast to hunt and hence it was preying on cattle and attacking humans.

Meanwhile, Nodal Officer Saswati Mishra yesterday visited the spot, where the tiger had killed the woman and took a complete report from the Forest officials. Lauding the Forest officials and staff for their quick response and capturing the tiger, she instructed the Forest officials to take steps to prevent man-animal conflicts in future.

Honest mistake

Forest Personnel raid Snake Shyam's house

- Rescue two monkeys, three turtles
- "I was treating them for injuries and was to release them after recovery," clarifies the Snake rescuer

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (MTY&KS)- The Mysuru Police CID Forest Mobile Squad, which raided the house of city's well-known snake rescuer S. Balasubramanya (Snake Shyam) at Mogarahalli village on KRS Road in Srirangapatna taluk yesterday afternoon, have rescued two Bonnet Monkeys and three Indian Black Turtles from the house which were kept illegally in the house.

The Mysuru Police CID Forest Mobile Squad team, led by Sub-Inspector R. Lakshmi, based on information raided the house of Snake Shyam at about 1.30 pm yesterday and found two Bonnet Monkeys and three Indian Black Turtles confined in separate cages and took them into custody.

When the officials asked Shyam whether he had obtained license to keep the animals, Shyam said that he had not obtained the licence following which the officials told Shyam that it was illegal to keep the animals and took the custody of monkeys and turtles. The Forest Mobile Squad staff, then took Shyam to their Office in city and recorded a voluntary declaration statement from him. A Wildlife Offence Report has been submitted to the SCJ and JMFC (Junior Division) Court in Srirangapatna.

Snake Shyam, speaking to Star of Mysore, said that the monkeys and turtles were found injured and he was treating them to release them into their natural habitat after they recovered completely. He said that one monkey was injured on its head after it had met with an accident with a truck and the other monkey was electrocuted.

"Even the turtles were injured and I was taking care of their injuries. Once they had recovered, I would have released them into their natural habitat. The only mistake I did was I had not informed Forest Dept. about it," he added.

She argued against the notion that intelligence is solely reflected in academic achievements and highlighted the importance of practical skills. Dr. Sabiha shared these insights during the recent inauguration of the IQAC and Cultural Wing, NSS, Red Cross, Scouts and Guides, NCC and Sports and Cultural Wings of Maharani's Arts College.

Expressing concern about high-scoring students lacking practical skills, Dr. Sabiha asserted that engagement in cultural, sports and other activities equips students with the ability to shape their livelihoods.

She stressed that academic performance is just one aspect of life, and employers, in addition to academic records, seek skills such as leadership, communication and teamwork.

Dr. Sabiha pointed out that involvement in extracurricular and co-curricular activities enhances self-confidence and fosters personality development, which are crucial for success in career.

Highlighting the advantages of studying in Women's Colleges, Dr. Sabiha suggested that female students should make the most of the opportunities available to them.

She noted the substantial participation of over 2,700 girl students at Maharani's Arts College, with 400 engaged in NSS activities, 120 in NCC, 200 in Red Cross and 45 in Scouts and Guides.

College Principal Dr. B.V. Vasanth Kumar, IQAC Convenor Dr. N. Prakash, faculty M. Nanjundaiah, Ashvini and others were present on the occasion.

Names of 25 MLAs ready

The Legislators of those districts which lack representation in the Cabinet have been given the first preference, followed by other districts. Meanwhile, it is also said, "If the list is not released before the start of Belagavi Session, the chances of releasing the list after the conclusion of the Session on Dec. 15 cannot be ruled out. With Lok Sabha elections due to be held in April-May 2024, the party is treading cautiously, with the possibilities of those MLAs who were keen on being suitably rewarded with plum post, involving in dissident activities during the session in the event of missing the berth, cannot be denied."

To avoid the wrath of sulking party workers, especially those loyal workers who were waiting for their share of pie, the State leaders who had prepared the list after three rounds of meeting, later brought it to the notice of Party High Command to take a final call, it is said.

Probables from Mysuru

Meanwhile, the names of MLAs Anil Chikkamadu (H.D. Kote, Mysuru district) and A.R. Krishnamurthy(Kollegal,Chamarajanagar district) and MLC Dr. D. Thimmaiah (Mysuru-Chamarajanagar Local Bodies Constituency) are doing rounds as most probables to head Boards and Corporations.

Anil, who is serving his second consecutive term as MLA, is likely to become the Chairman of Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) considered as prestigious in Mysuru region and Dr. Thimmaiah, who is serving his first term as MLC for the Chairmanship of Dr. Babu Jagjivan Ram Leather Industries Development Corporation (LIDKAR). The name of another MLC U.B. Venkatesh of Bengaluru is also in circulation.

Till now, the names of former Mysuru ZP President K. Marigowda and former ZP Member Rakesh Papanna were in circulation for MUDA Chairmanship.

Most of the prominent leaders are vying for the top posts and have camped in Bengaluru for the past one month, frequently visiting Vidhana Soudha, the seat of State Legislature. However, the latest development considering only senior MLAs and MLCs, barring a few exceptions in the first phase, has left most of the party workers disappointed, it is said.

Apart from MUDA, Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) and Mysore Paints and Varnish Limited (MPVL) are also headquartered in city.

Police crack UPI fraud

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Dhiraj Kumar said that he wanted the latest internet fibre broadband connection to his home and office and was Googling it at 4 pm on Nov. 15. He saw an advertisement on Google and called the 'customer care' number displayed there. "A person speaking on the other end told me that the broadband connection is available in Hebbal, Mysuru and he would call me back from his office number," he said.

The caller later told Dhiraj Kumar that he had to pay Rs. 5 through UPI as a registration fee and the latter agreed, without suspecting anything. "Meanwhile, BHIM app (probably a deceptive UPI handle used here to trick unsuspecting users) with MobiKwik as the payment receiver app was automatically installed on my mobile phone as I was speaking over the phone. Usually, a user grants privacy permission to apps to access data on any mobile phone. But in this case, the app automatically granted the privacy and transaction permissions and the fraudster withdrew Rs. 14,400 from my bank account," he explained.

Soon after the fraudster ended the conversation, Dhiraj Kumar saw that there were 160 messages on his phone. "Most of the messages read: 'Our registration for the BHIM app has started. If it is not you please report now to your bank. Do not share the card details/OTP to avoid any financial loss -NPCI' and there were other messages that had granted transaction permission to MobiKwik," he said.

Wasting no time, Dhiraj Kumar called his bank to debit-freeze his account due to the fraudulent transaction. He also called up the CEN Police Station and registered a complaint. "The complaint was registered within 15 to 20 minutes of the crime and the CEN Police also sent me the FIR copy which I handed over to my bank and the jurisdictional Hebbal Police Station. On Nov. 16, the Police managed to block the fraudster's account to which money from my bank account was credited. Rs. 14,400 was reversed to my account before the conman could move my money to another account or withdraw it," Dhiraj Kumar added.

Former US Secretary of State Henry Kissinger dies at 100

Washington, Nov. 30 (Agencies)- Henry Kissinger, the former US Secretary of State, passed away yesterday at the age of 100, his consulting firm announced.

Henry Kissinger

"Dr. Henry Kissinger, a respected American scholar and statesman, died today at his home in Connecticut," Kissinger Associates announced in a statement. The family is planning a private funeral, with a memorial service scheduled for later in New York.

The cause of death was not disclosed. Despite his age, Kissinger remained active, even making a trip to meet Chinese President Xi Jinping in July, 2023.

One of Kissinger's enduring legacies was his role in reshaping global dynamics after World War II. Seeking to alter the Cold War landscape against the Soviet Union, he engaged in secret negotiations with China, leading to President Richard Nixon's historic visit in 1972 and the subsequent establishment of diplomatic relations between the US and Beijing.

Unearthing of prenatal sex determination racket

Pre-dated notice pasted on hospital wall to cover-up laxity

Mysuru Taluk Health officials try to evade accountability by creating false impression

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (BCT)- As scrutiny intensifies on the officials who were unaware or complicit in the illegal abortion racket recently uncovered by the Bengaluru Police across Bengaluru, Mysuru and Mandya, the Mysuru Taluk Officers of Health Department are resorting to various tactics to evade investigation and avoid accountability.

In a glaring display of unethical behaviour and a breach of professional conduct, Taluk Health Department officials have surreptitiously affixed a back-dated or pre-dated notice to the now-seized Mathaa Hospital in Udayagiri, Mysuru. This deceptive manoeuvre aims to create the false impression that the Department had taken action against the Hospital in June 2023, months prior to the busting of the racket.

Embarrassment for District Administration

However, the Health Department's unscrupulous act of fabricating a back-dated document has not gone unnoticed, leading to embarrassment for the Mysuru District Administration that has constituted a Task Force to oversee such cases, extending its monitoring from the village level to the city level.

Unearthing the huge racket, the Bengaluru Police said that the illegal business was thriving in Mysuru and Mandya since the last three years and over 3,000 illegal abortions were held. The racket flourished under the very nose of the Health Department that was unaware or complicit. To show that they were aware of the illegal activities at Mathaa Hospital, the Health Department officials have pasted the pre-dated (June 22, 2023) notice on the walls of the Hospital.

This notice was pasted overnight on Tuesday and in a clandestine manner. Notably, the Hospital has been shut since the last three months. The notice states that the Department received oral complaints about the illegal sex determination tests being conducted at the hospital and the Hospital authorities have been asked to reply to the notice within seven days.

Questions on credibility and transparency

The intention behind this action by Mysuru Taluk Health officials was likely to portray that the notice had been issued to Mathaa Hospital as far back as June 2023, with the goal of keeping a copy in their records to evade further scrutiny. However, this manoeuvre has backfired, as it has come to light that the notice was freshly pasted, and it remains in place despite the hospital being closed for three months. This revelation raises questions about the credibility and transparency of the Health Department's actions in response to the illegal activities.

By affixing the notice after the exposure of the racket, the officials aimed to convey the impression that the Hospital closure resulted from the notice issued and subsequent actions taken by the Health Department. This calculated move suggests an attempt to manipulate the narrative and deflect responsibility.

The hastily created notice lacks clarity regarding its intended recipient, omitting the name of the primary addressee. Despite this omission, copies of the notice have been dispatched to the District Health Officer. Additionally, a second copy has been directed to Dr. Chandan Ballal, the owner of Mathaa Hospital and purportedly the mastermind behind the illicit racket.

This distribution pattern raises further questions about the transparency and sincerity of the Taluk Health Department's actions, as it seems to be a hurried attempt to project an appearance of official communication without the necessary attention to detail and accuracy.

> I have got the information that pre-dated notice has been pasted on the walls of Mathaa Hospital. I have issued a show-cause notice to Mysuru Taluk Health Officer Dr. Rajeshwari. Action will be taken after she responds to my notice.

Mandya officials fail to explain how racket thrived for 3 years

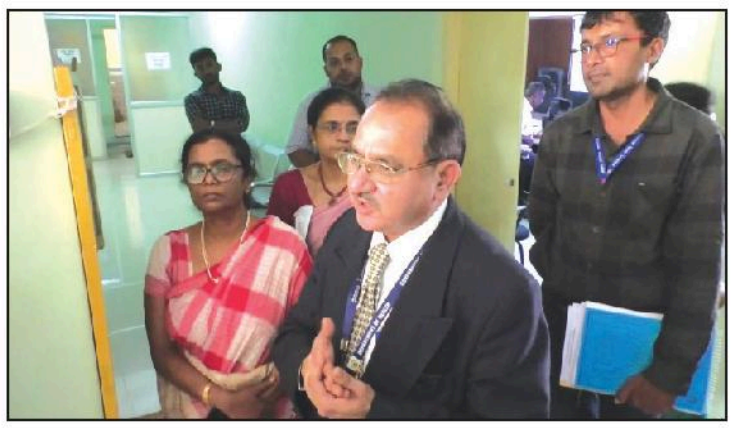
How could racketeers procure ultrasound machines without DHO's authorisation, asks former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy

Mandya, Nov. 30 (RK&BCT)- Following the female foeticide racket that shocked the State, the Karnataka Government convened an emergency meeting yesterday to discuss the situation and initiate action.

The Department of Health and Family Welfare held the meeting at Vidhana Soudha, and it was chaired by Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao. Officers were present with the required information to discuss the female foeticide cases reported in the state and to initiate preventive measures.

Meanwhile, a high-level delegation from the Health Department Competent Authority visited the office of the Mandya District Health Officer (DHO) yesterday and checked the office records and other files related to pregnancy, abortions and the detection of any illegal abortions. The delegation was led by Dr. Srinivas, the head of the Competent Authority.

After obtaining information from the DHO and the Taluk Health Officers, the delegation held a virtual meeting with Minister Dinesh Gundurao. Later, a training programme was held to ASHA workers on ways and means to prevent illegal abortions at village levels.



Dr. Srinivas Head of Health Department Competent Authority visited the office of Mandya DHO yesterday.

Officials unaware

Dr. Srinivas told reporters that those arrested in the racket were not doctors (Police say that Dr. Chandan Ballal and Dr. Tulasiraman are the racket kingpins). He mentioned that the Department lacked information on where the other accused in Mandya acquired training in ultrasound scanning of foetuses. According to him, the accused did not perform abortions in Mandya but only brought women for scanning.

Despite these statements, Dr. Srinivas and Mandya Health officials faced challenges in explaining how the racket thrived within jaggery-making units and how over 3,000 abortions occurred in three years without detection.

Kumaraswamy's jibe

Meanwhile, former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has said that the unearthing of the racket shows the failure of the administrative machinery and exposes the callous attitude of the officers and how the political class has lost control over the officers.

Speaking to reporters in Mysuru yesterday, the former CM said that it is a failure of the governance mechanism. "How the racketeers were able to procure two ultrasound machines without the authorisation of the DHO? And how could the racket survive for more than three years? Along with illegal abortions, child-selling rackets are active in Karnataka. All these shows how the State is being governed," he said.

Laksha Deepotsava at city temple

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (PM&BS)- Laksha Deepotsava was celebrated with devotion at Sri Kalyana Lakshmi Venkataramana Swamy Temple on Dr. Rajkumar Road in Kalyanagiri here on Monday.

Devotees lit lamps arranged in diverse designs and rows at the Temple premises in celebration of Vishnu Deepotsava.

Inaugurating the Deepotsava, Krishnaraja MLA T.S. Srivatsa said, "This Temple stands as a prominent religious centre in this part of the city. The festival holds significance, drawing devotees irrespective of caste and creed, fulfilling their vows. Today being Hunnime, the celebration of Shiva Deepotsava and Vishnu Deepotsava together makes it a special occasion."

Srivatsa also offered prayers for the well-being of farmers and the general public facing a scarcity of rain and drinking water, hoping to avert any challenges they may encounter in the coming days.

Temple's Founder and BJP leader H.G. Giridhar said, "Laksha Deepotsava was being held during Karthika Masa since the Temple's establishment in 2012. It is quite rare that Karthika Hunnime, Vishnu Deepotsava and Karthika Somavara (Monday) coincide on the same day."

The celebration included a special Satyanarayana Swamy puja with the presiding deity adorned for the occasion, followed by mass feeding in the afternoon and a bhajan recital.

A large number of devotees from various nearby localities attended the event, with the presence of BJP leaders M.V. Ravishankar, M.A. Mohan and entrepreneur M. Gopinath Shenoy's wife, Savitri Gopinath Shenoy.

Yuvajanotsava meets with lukewarm response

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (MTY&BS)- The District-level Yuvajanotsava (Youth Fest) held at Chamundi Vihar Stadium in city recently received a lukewarm response, with only a limited number of students and youths participating in the annual event.

Organised by the Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES) in collaboration with District Administration, Zilla Panchayat and Nehru Yuva Kendra, the fest aimed to provide a platform for students in various age groups to showcase their talents. However, rural students, who constituted a significant portion of participants in previous years, did not turn up, resulting in a lacklustre atmosphere.

The fest included contests such as story-writing, poster-making, photography, and elocution for students and youths aged 18 to 29 years. On-the-spot registration was available, but rural students were notably absent.

In the cultural segment, student troupes from Maharani's Women's Commerce and Management College, Maharani's Science College for Women, Marimallappa's College and Maharaja Institute of Technology (Tandavapura) participated in folk dance and singing (Group and Solo).

WORD OF THE DAY

Woebegone

Pronunciation: WOH-bih-gahn.
Meaning: Woebegone describes someone or something that feels or shows great woe, sorrow, or misery.
Origin: Whoa, whoa, whoa. We know that, at first glance, woebegone looks like a word that has its meaning backwards; after all, if begone means "go away," shouldn't woebegone mean "devoid of woe," or "happy"? Not exactly. The word comes from the Middle English phrase wo begon. The wo in this phrase does indeed mean "woe," but begon means "beset." Someone who is woebegone, therefore, is beset with woe. Since the mid-1700s, the word has also been used to describe things that appear to express sadness, as in "the woebegone look on his face when he misplaced his favourite dictionary."
Example: "It's a classic pop formula: wed woebegone lyrics to bright sounds, drawing out all that's entrancing about sadness. Peach Pit does it as well or better than most of their peers." —Aarik Danielsen, The Columbia (Missouri) Tribune, 27 July 2023.

THE ODD WORD

Wardcorn

Payment of corn in place of military service.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

We know where you live

Meaning: A threat of violence.
Origin: This phrase has been current in the UK since the early 1990s. Of course, there's more to this than the literal meaning of the words. What's implied is that the aggressors have the information to locate their victim at home and intend to seek them out there and attack them.
This piece from The Times, June 1992 reported death threats to Dessa Trevisan their correspondent in Belgrade and included this threat made by 'unidentified men', outside Belgrade's International Press Centre: "We know where you live. We will break down your door and come to finish you."
In the King James Version of the Bible, Revelations 2:13, there is the line: 'I know thy works, and where thou dwellest'
The 'we know where you live' thugs aren't likely to be Biblical scholars though and that's hardly likely to be the source of the recent phrase.

If life were predictable it would cease to be life, and be without flavour.
